Note re Pricing: Country Association's report detailed information about crops and varieties. Prices and price expectations are not discussed.

IMPORTANT: The above figures are collated from estimates provided by country representatives. In some instances they are projections and should not be taken as absolutes. For many reasons, actual production can vary from the figures shown and the International Blackcurrant Association can't accept any responsibility for the accuracy of them: they should be treated as estimates provided in good faith but not necessarily correct.
